Interstate Land Sales All States

The Interstate Land Sales program protects consumers from fraud and the sale or lease of land. In 1968 Congress enacted the Interstate Land Disclosure Act, which is patterned after the Securities Law of 1933 and land developers to register subdivisions of 100 or more non-exempt lot and to provide each purchaser with a disclosure document called a Property Report. The Property Report contains relevant information about the subdivision and must be delivered to each purchaser before the signing of the contract agreement.

There are 170 Subdivisions in the State of New York.
